This week we would like you to focus on a book you have been reading at home, or maybe a story you have listened to online. We are really enjoying listening to the David Walliams Elevensies stories for example. If you are stuck for a book idea, think back to a story we did in class such as Kensuke’s Kingdom or Alice in Wonderland.

For Day 1’s task, we would like you to focus on one of the main characters in the story and plan your ideas for a character description. Go back through the book if you have a copy and pick out ideas and evidence from the text that builds up a picture of what that character is like. Think about what your character enjoys or dislikes as well as what they look like physically. Use a mind map or a list with bullet points to organise your ideas.

For Day 2’s task, we would like you to put all of those ideas that you built up yesterday in to a piece of writing in full sentences. Try and use the evidence you built up from the text yesterday, but also include any thoughts or feelings your character may have.

As an extra task you may like to draw a picture of your character, either using the book’s own illustrations, or maybe using your own ideas of what you think the character looks like.